A++

Modern aesthetics and advanced efficiency come together in the white Metz Medio II ceiling hood from Thermex. Stylish design, advanced technology, and almost silent operation create the perfect kitchen environment.

Metz Medio II from Thermex is a ceiling-integrated hood that combines efficient ventilation with stylish design. It is made of white-painted steel with an elegant white glass door and has two grease filters and four LED lights. The unique feature of Kelvin-adjustable light offers the possibility to customize the color temperature of the lighting, giving the user the freedom to create a warm, cozy atmosphere or a cooler, white lighting as needed. Cleaning is easy with a glass plate that can be cleaned with window cleaner, and filters that can be washed in the dishwasher. Installation is convenient with a low built-in height of under 20 cm, and the option to remove the glass plate makes it easy for one person to install the hood. The hood offers practical features such as app control via "Thermex Remote" in the App Store and Google Play, as well as voice control via Google Assistant, enhancing user-friendliness. Operation is elegant via a remote control with touch operation, giving the user control over suction power and light intensity. Additionally, it is possible to connect Thermex TopLink, which allows turning on the hood from any electric hob or oven. The motor is a built-in brushless ECO motor with impressive suction power of up to 750 m³/h and low noise level from 44 dB(A), creating a pleasant and efficient environment in the kitchen.
